Login to your LAYLA account and click “PayPal API information registration”

The screenshot displays the LAYLA Seller interface. At the top right, there are links for "Register" and "My LAYLA". The breadcrumb trail shows "Home > PayPal API Information Registration". The main heading is "PayPal API Information Registration". Below this, there are three input fields: "API user name", "API password", and "API signature". A red box highlights a text block: "PayPal API information is a function that allows Buyer to find out information about Seller PayPal d. If you login to the PayPal site from here, you can check the API information." A blue callout bubble points to this text, containing the instruction: "Click 'If you login to the PayPal site from here, you can check the API information' to go to PayPal". At the bottom right, there is a blue "Registration" button with a checkmark icon. On the left side, a sidebar menu is visible, with "PayPal API information registration" highlighted in a red box. The sidebar also includes sections for "My Page" and "Seller Men".
